Description A post graduate research opportunity is available with the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Floral and Nursery Plants Research Unit (FNPRU) in Beltsville, Maryland.

The selected applicant will document and inventory accessions in the U.S. National Arboretum's Woody Landscape Plant Germplasm Repository in Beltsville, Maryland. Activities will include managing the seed inventory, conducting germination tests to monitor and determine seed viability in diverse taxa, maintaining detailed records, processing distribution requests to a national and international customer base, propagating plants for both distribution and preservation, processing newly collected seeds including seed cleaning and distribution to other NPGS sites, entering all relevant data into GRIN and BGBASE databases.

The appointment is part-time for twelve months and may be renewed based upon recommendation of the ARS and availability of funding. The selected applicant will receive a stipend as support for their living and other expenses during this appointment. Stipend rates are determined by ARS officials, and are based on the applicant's academic and professional background. The participant must show proof of health and medical insurance. Health insurance can be obtained through ORISE. The participant does not become an employee of ARS or ORISE.

While participants will not enter into an employment relationship with ARS, this position requires a pre-employment check and a full background investigation.
