Description The Minority Serving Institutions Partnership Program (MSIPP) Internships is a new program to promote the education and development of the next generation workforce in critical science, engineering, technology, and math (STEM) related disciplines that complement current and future missions of DOE national laboratories. The MSIPP Internship program is designed to provide an enhanced training environment for next generation scientists and engineers by exposing them to research challenges unique to our industry.

MSIPP Interns will be given the opportunity to complete Summer Internships aligned with ongoing U.S. Department of Energy Office of Environmental Management (DOE-EM) research under the direction of a host national laboratory. The internship will be performed at the host national laboratory, utilizing their facilities and equipment under the guidance of a research staff member.

Minority Serving Institutions are institutions of higher education enrolling populations with significant percentages of undergraduate minority students.

The project will focus on assisting the environmental compliance (ENV-CP) team with implementation and maintenance of Los Alamos National Laboratory's Hazardous Waste Permit. Specifically this will involve researching environmental compliance issues such as hazardous waste regulations, accompanying personnel on field assessments, and working with the regulator with regards to responses to requested information.

Qualifications The successful candidate should be studying environmental sciences or life sciences. The ability to assist in researching laws and regulations, good communications skills, and Microsoft Office proficiency is required. The ENV-CP group is fast paced
