CDER Office/Lab and Location: A research opportunity is available in the Office of Biotechnology Products (OBP), Office of Pharmaceutical Quality (OPQ) within the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) located in Silver Spring, Maryland. The Center for Drug Evaluation and Research (CDER) performs an essential public health task by making sure that safe and effective drugs are available to improve the health of people in the United States. As part of FDA, CDER regulates over-the-counter and prescription drugs, including biological therapeutics and generic drugs. This research covers more than just medicines.

Research Project: This project will consist of; advanced manufacturing and analytics for biological product manufacturing and quality, biological assays to support biological product development and testing, assays and models to detect impurities that increase the risk of immunogenicity and support biosimilar and interchangeable product development.

Under the guidance of the mentor, the participant will gain knowledge in the scientific background and regulatory challenges in this area, technical issues, experimental design and research methods. The participant will learn approaches to data analysis and evaluation and have opportunities to communicate scientific data through presentations to peers and/or written communications.

This program, administered by ORAU through its contract with the U.S. Department of Energy to manage the Oak Ridge Institute for Science and Education, was established through an interagency agreement between DOE and FDA. The appointment is for 12 months. The participant will receive a monthly stipend commensurate with educational level and experience. Proof of health insurance is required for participation in this program. The appointment is full-time at FDA in the Silver Spring, Maryland area. Participants do not become employees of FDA, DOE or the program administrator, and there are no employment-related benefits.
