Description *Applications will be reviewed on a rolling-basis.

CDC Office and Location: A research opportunity is available in the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) located in Atlanta, Georgia.

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) is one of the major operation components of the Department of Health and Human Services. CDC works to protect America from health, safety and security threats, both foreign and in the U.S. Whether diseases start at home or abroad, are chronic or acute, curable or preventable, human error or deliberate attack, CDC fights disease and supports communities and citizens to do the same.

Research Project: The ORISE participant will train with the Division of Global Health Protection (DGHP) Policy Team and will train to analyze our division's diplomatic, multilateral, nonprofit, congressional and interagency partnerships to develop a partnership strategy to advance DGHP's strategic priorities in alignment to A Strategic Framework for Global Health | Global Health | CDC

Learning Objectives: Under the ORISE Research Participation program, the fellowship will offer the opportunity to train in the Division of Global Health Protection Policy Team. The ORISE participant will have the opportunity to gain experience in policy analysis. Additionally, they will be able to train on projects that will inform global health security policies and efforts focused on enhancing workforce development, laboratory and surveillance systems, public health systems, and emergency response around the world.

Affirmation I certify that I have not previously been employed by CDC or by a contractor working directly for CDC. I understand that CDC does not permit individuals with a prior employment relationship with CDC or its contractors to participate as trainees in the ORISE program. (Exceptions may be granted for individuals who, since the previous CDC employment, have obtained a new STEM degree which necessitates training in a new field.)
