Applications for this opportunity will be accepted on a rolling basis.

Description The Department of Energy (DOE) Science, Technology, and Policy (STP) Program provides an opportunity for students, postgraduates, and faculty to engage in programs, projects, and activities that align with the DOE's mission. Program participants will gain insight into the federal government's role in creating and implementing policies that will impact energy technology development; contribute to the implementation of energy policies by utilizing scientific and technical expertise to address key issues relevant to the DOE; and continue their education and involvement in areas that support the DOE mission. By participating, individuals will join a community of highly-skilled scientists and engineers, and will be equipped with the knowledge, experience, and training to contribute to the DOE's mission and workforce in the future.

Locations

Selected candidates will be placed at DOE Headquarters, DOE field offices, or other DOE-approved sites.

Participant Provisions

Selected candidates will receive a stipend to offset the cost of living and other expenses during this appointment. Stipend rates are determined by DOE officials and are based on the candidate's academic and professional background. Candidates may also be eligible to receive a health insurance allowance and reimbursement for travel expenses.

Nature of the Appointment

Participants will not enter into an employee/employer relationship with ORISE, ORAU, the DOE, or any other office or agency. Instead, the participant will be affiliated with ORISE for the administration of the appointment, as outlined in the ORISE appointment letter and Terms of Appointment.
