Description The Defense Centers for Public Health – Portsmouth (DCPH-P) ensures Department of Defense Readiness through leadership in prevention of disease and promotion of health. Through the ORISE program, the DCPH-P provides opportunities to participate in on-going applied research and development projects in the areas of Environmental Health, Engineering, Biological Sciences, Public Health, Occupational and Environmental Health, Industrial Hygiene, Environmental Sanitation and Hygiene, and Laboratory Services.

What will I be doing?

Under the guidance of an epidemiologist mentor, you will be involved with and learn how to:

- Collect, evaluate and provide public health surveillance data analysis and reporting for Department of Defense members and beneficiaries.
- Develop/conduct epidemiologic studies and surveillance in the areas of clinical epidemiology, infectious disease, behavioral health, occupational and environmental epidemiology and injury and healthcare epidemiology.
- Provide rapid response to request for outbreak and disease information.
- Provide epidemiologic consulting and assistance for studies.
- Integrate health data with other data types to provide robust analysis.
- Investigate and study acute and chronic conditions to determine the public health impact of intervention programs.
- Prepare raw health data for epidemiologic analysis.

Why should I apply?

This internship provides the opportunity to independently utilize your skills and engage with experts in innovative ideas to move the proposed research forward. There are multiple opportunities available to engage in your applied research and evaluation interests.

Where will I be located?

Portsmouth, Virginia

What is the anticipated start date?

DCPH-P is ready to make an appointment immediately. Exact start date will be determined at the time of selection and in coordination with the selected candidate.

What is the length of the appointment?

This ORISE appointment is full-time twelve-month duration. Appointments may be extended depending on funding availability, project assignment, program rules, and availability of the participant.

What are the provisions?

You will receive a stipend to be determined by DCPH-P. Stipends are typically based on the participant's academic standing, discipline, experience, and research facility location. Other
