Description The Air Force Institute of Technology Center for Space Research & Assurance (CSRA) is offering a research internship at Wright Patterson Air Force Base, Ohio.

What will I be doing?

As an Oak Ridge Institute for Science and Education (ORISE) participant, you will join a community of scientists and researchers in an effort to conduct research in aerodynamics and atmospheric reentry. In particular, the project will leverage software to simulate dynamics and, if opportunity allows, conduct wind tunnel tests in AFIT's supersonic tunnel. An additional project involves designing a vertical chamber to test concepts for high-altitude deceleration technologies.

Why should I apply?

Under the guidance of a mentor, you will gain hands-on experience to complement your education and support your academic and professional goals. Along the way, you will engage in activities and research in several areas. These include, but are not limited to:

- Learn how to translate novel test requirements toward the design of practical new capabilities in preparation for experiments at AFIT
- Gain experience in hands-on data collection using AFIT's wind tunnel
- Develop skills in deploying computer simulations to investigate dynamics
- Build self-reliance and confidence by contributing to solutions in the design and test process
- Expand interpersonal skills by collaborating with knowledgeable experts

Where will I be located?

Dayton, Ohio

What is the anticipated start date?

Exact start dates will be determined at the time of selection and in coordination with the selected candidate. Applications are reviewed on an ongoing basis and internships will be filled as qualified candidates are identified.

What is the appointment length?

This appointment is a two-month research appointment, with the possibility to be renewed for additional research periods. Appointments may be extended depending on funding availability, project assignment, program rules, and availability of the participant.

What are the provisions?

You will receive a stipend to be determined by AFIT. Stipends are typically based on a participant's academic standing, discipline, experience, and research facility location. Other provisions may include the following:

- Health Insurance Supplement (Participants are eligible to purchase health insurance through ORISE)

About AFIT

The Air Force Institute of Technology, or AFIT, located at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Ohio, is the Air Force's graduate school of engineering and management as well as its institution for technical professional continuing education. A component of Air University and Air Education and Training Command, AFIT is committed to providing defense-focused graduate and professional continuing education and research to sustain the technological supremacy of America's air, space and cyber forces.

About ORISE

This program, administered by Oak Ridge Associated Universities (ORAU) through its contract with the U.S. Department of Energy (DOE) to manage the Oak Ridge Institute for Science and Education (ORISE), was established through an interagency agreement between DOE and DoD. Participants do not enter an employee/employer relationship with ORISE, ORAU, DoD or any other office or agency. Instead, you will be affiliated with ORISE for the administration of the appointment through the ORISE appointment letter and Terms of Appointment. Proof of health insurance is required for participation in this program. Health insurance can be obtained through ORISE. For more information, visit the ORISE Research Participation Program at the U.S. Department of Defense.

Qualifications The qualified candidate will hold or be currently pursuing a Bachelor's degree in any of the required disciplines listed in the eligibility section. Degree holders must have earned their degree within 5 years of the appointment start date, and current students should have an anticipated graduation date of May 31, 2028.

Application Requirements
