- Department of Energy: <https://www.energy.gov/coronavirus-hub>

If you have any questions, please contact us at ORNLedu@ornl.gov.

The application will require:

- Profile information
- Educational details (i.e. dates of attendance/graduation, GPAs, majors, etc.)
- Awards and honors
- Internships or previous experience
- Essay questions on relevant goals, interests, experiences, or skills
- An updated resume (pdf)
- Contact information for recommender, including current email address
- Academic records - For this opportunity, an unofficial transcript or copy of academic records may be submitted showing name, school name, current/enrolled classes, and GPA (pdf)
- Preferred start/end dates
 - These dates may be considered by the ORNL mentor in determining appointment dates, but are not guaranteed

All documents must be submitted via Zintellect. All application components must be completed and received in the system in order to be considered.

Opportunity Title: Higher Education Research Experiences at ORNL- Current Undergraduate Student

Opportunity Reference Code: ORNL-HERE-CUGS

while utilizing the unique resources of ORNL and encourages careers in the science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM) and support fields.

Application Deadline

This is a continuous posting. Applications will be reviewed and selected by ORNL mentors on a rolling basis as opportunities become available.

Description

- Full-time or part-time appointments may be offered
- Flexible start and end dates

Benefits

- $600/week stipend paid biweekly for full-time participation; pro-rated if part-time
- Effective October 4, 2020: $150/week housing allowance for full-time participants (paid with biweekly stipend)
- Limited travel reimbursement (up to $500 total) for full-time participants if permanent address is at least 50 miles from Oak Ridge
- Learn more about Housing for ORNL Research Participants

Before you get started on your applications, you should:

1. Review the research areas at ORNL to determine what best fits your career goals. You can see the six discipline areas at www.ornl.gov.
 - For example, if you choose Clean Energy you will learn more breakthrough areas, news, current research highlights, and more. And you can explore other research areas, or related links and organizations to identify your areas of interest and key words, important terminology, papers, etc. that can be used as you answer application questions or update your resume.
 - Or type a key word into the search box at the top right corner on www.ornl.gov and follow the links provided to identify key researchers at ORNL or go to the webpages of the directorates or divisions. For example, typing "Environmental Science" leads to the link for the Environmental Sciences Division.
 - And you can find general contacts and access many of the Division or User Facility pages under Our People. Be sure to click on the page links to find potential connections as the Director is usually not the best place to begin your connection process.

After you have completed your application, then reach out via email (use the Our People – Contact Us – Find People - Staff Directory link at www.ornl.gov to enter a name and obtain an email address) to the researchers you identify.

1. Tell them about your background and describe how your career objectives and interests relate to their research.
2. Include an updated resume/CV in the email and let them know which programs you have applied to at ORNL.
3. Showing initiative by reaching out to discuss your passion for science and research is a great way to introduce yourself to potential mentors. This personal connection can be the key to "standing out" from other applications.
