Description The EPA National Student Services Contract provides opportunities for exceptional undergraduate and graduate students and recent Bachelor's, Master's, and Postdoctoral graduates to participate in the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's (EPA) Office of Research and Development (ORD) research and administrative projects at multiple EPA laboratories and research centers. We are seeking qualified applicants in business and related fields for our program. Selected applicants will receive hands-on training in a real-world setting, academic incentives and professional benefits, while contributing to EPA's Mission. Among these benefits are:

- Specialized business support experiences within your field of work/study
- Professional mentors complementing student's academic studies
- Opportunity to network with fellow business professionals in various administrative fields
- Professional training and potential career opportunities in numerous fields
- Flexible scheduling with emphasis on your academic degree
- Academic credit (where applicable)
- "Real-world" business experience
- Access to cutting-edge equipment and supplies to complete projects
- Ability to explore and gain greater access to careers in various fields
- Competitive salary based on training and locale
- Travel in support of the EPA's initiatives

Disciplines: Projects may include, but are not limited to, the following areas: communications, health communications, business communications, and science writing.
